Put your mark on how the library contributes to our community each day as a resource and facility for people of all ages to read, explore and learn.
Dedicate a day of library service to family, friends, and colleagues with the library's "Mark Your Day" program.

For a $100 donation, your gift recipient's name will be prominently recognized at all three libraries in Union County, on our website, and social media, linking them to the library's daily mission to enrich minds and stimulate the imagination.

Mark Your Day

Make your mark on the community

Here's a snapshot of what a typical day of library resources includes:

- Public computers and WiFi network busy with people job hunting, connecting with friends and family, editing and printing color images, researching family history, reading news and many other activities.
- School age children in a library program with stories and hands-on activities learning about math and science; and adults connecting with others in classes to learn how to use Pinterest, manage a chronic health condition, or start seeds for a spring garden.
- One-on-one tech training to learn how to use a new tablet.
- Families in their homes downloading movies and music and finding resources to help with homework.
- You and your recipient celebrating this special day.

Mark your days of significance with family and friends and make your mark on the community.

A card will be mailed recognizing a day has been dedicated and a bookplate will be added to a book in our collection.

The recipient's name will appear on:

- Signage in the libraries
